Home Security 101: Free Community Session at Summit City Hall

SUMMIT, NJ, November 10, 2025 – The Summit Police Department invites all residents to attend "Home Security 101" on Wednesday, November 12, at 7PM in Council Chamber at Summit City Hall, 512 Springfield Avenue.

This free, informative session will be led by Officer David Kotiga of the Summit Police Department. Officer Kotiga will share practical tips and best practices for improving home security, discuss the most common vulnerabilities that can make homes a target, and explain simple, effective steps every homeowner can take to stay safe.

Attendees will also learn how to schedule a free, professional home security assessment offered by the Summit Police Department. These assessments help residents identify potential risks and take proactive measures to better protect themselves, their families, and their property.

No RSVP is required; just come ready to learn and ask questions. The event is open to all Summit residents and is part of the department's ongoing community outreach and safety education efforts.
