SUMMIT, NJ, February 21, 2025 – Kathleen Maggiulli of the Summit Police Department was sworn in and promoted to the rank of Sergeant at a ceremony held on Thursday, February 20, at Summit City Hall. This promotion makes her the department's first female officer to attain the rank of supervisor.

It was standing room only in Council Chambers as Sergeant Maggiulli made Summit history, surrounded by her colleagues, friends, family, and elected officials.

"This was a long time coming," said Summit Mayor Elizabeth Fagan. "She worked really hard to get here. When we interviewed her, she was incredible; she was a professional leader."

Police Chief Steven Zagorski adds: "Sergeant Maggiulli is a true asset to our organization, and I could not be prouder or more pleased to see her promoted to this position."

Sergeant Maggiulli's outstanding service and leadership have been recognized by multiple awards throughout her 20+ years of service with the Summit Police Department. She is actively involved in community outreach and has served in several of the department's units, most recently the Detective Bureau. With her strong background in investigations, crisis intervention, and community policing, Sergeant Maggiulli brings a wealth of experience and leadership to her new role as Sergeant, which will begin on Monday, February 24.

"It is a very humbling experience," said Sergeant Maggiulli. "It's an opportunity that I've wanted and waited for, to be able to bring the experiences and knowledge bestowed up on me from the generations before to the next generation."
